

Aaron started his dance career at 20 years of age (late bloomer). He has taken several master classes as well as dance conventions including Jump, Nuvo, LA Dance Magic, LA Dance Force, Tremaine, where he won year long and single convention scholarships. At West Coast Dance Explosion, he was fortunate enough to win Mr. Dance Explosion Runner Up. Aaron traveled to Los Angeles for several summers of intensives at such studios as The Millenium Dance Complex, The Performing Arts Center (PAC), and on scholarship at The Edge Performing Arts Center. At these facilities he studied under such names as Doug Caldwell, Brian Friedman, Mia Michaels, and Wade Robson. Also, he studied in New York at Broadway Dance center and Steps On Broadway for several summers. During these summers he began teaching. Mr. Aaron has been blessed in his teaching career to work with many talented dancers and win many awards including choreographer of the year from Star Systems Dance Competition. He is grateful for everyday that he can share dance with the world.
